

MUST STILL FILE ELECTION BILLS

Assembly Refuses to Pass a Law Repealing This from Present Statute Books.

MERTON MEASURE

Substitute for the Primary Bill Will Be Brought Up on Wednesday Next—Work Saturdays.

(Special to The Gazette.) Madison, Wis., Feb. 27.—By a vote of 55 to 37 the assembly today refused to kill the bill repealing the law which requires candidates to file statements of campaign expenses. The bill was then sent to the judiciary committee.

Primary Bill
By a majority of three to two the senate elections committee reported for passage of the Merton substitute for the primary election bill, the chief difference from the bill passed by the assembly being that it provides for state conventions to formulate platform, instead of having it done by candidates. The bill will be put on the calendar next Wednesday.

Saturday Sessions
Bradford's move for Saturday session of the assembly carried by a vote of 50 to 29.

Lumber Value
A resolution was introduced in the assembly by Thompson instructing the tax commissioner to report to this legislature on the value of lumber, mining and other property in Northern Wisconsin, with a view to ascertaining whether it is bearing its just burden of taxation.

FIGURES ON THE TAX QUESTION

Seventeen Cities in State Are Named—Cities Picked at Random.

On account of there being so much comment on high taxes in Janesville as compared with other cities of the state, City Treasurer Pathers and City Clerk Badger sent out a circular letter to the different cities of the state asking for their assessed valuation and rate of taxation per $1,000.

Answers Received
They received answers from seventeen cities giving the information they sought. It will be seen from the list that Janesville's assessment on $1,000 is not near as high as a great many other of the cities and in some cases where a lower rate of assessment prevails the total property valuation is much higher while in reality the cities are but very little if any larger than Janesville, where the property values are not inflated.

DISABLED BOAT ARRIVES IN PORT

With a Broken Shaft It Had Much Difficulty Until Towed Into Harbor.

Hamilton, Feb. 27.—(Special.)—The Dutch steamer Beta, Captain Rijkboer, from Ship Island, Feb. 12, for Rotterdam, arrived here last night, having in tow the United States collier Alexander, which broke her shaft on February 10 while on her way from San Juan, Porto Rico for Norfolk. The latter had been adrift for ten days before she was picked up by the Beta, which towed her for five days. Captain Gove, commanding the Alexander, has a spare shaft aboard and will make repairs here. Captain Gove says that when the shaft broke the Alexander was in latitude 26:48 and about longitude 70. The engineers were unable to undertake the repairs at sea, as the ship needed to be settled by the head to lift the stern out of water. A boat under the command of Chief Officer Adamson, with a crew of four men, was therefore sent to try to reach Nassau, N. P., which was about 360 miles distant. For the next ten days the Alexander drifted 200 miles to the north and east and then back again south to within eighty miles of where she broke down. Having little sail power the collier could not get sufficient headway to enable the crew to steer her.

Heirs of Mrs. Della Clark Say He Took Money Which Did Not Belong to Him.

(Special to The Gazette.) Beloit, Wis., Feb. 27.—Irwin Reese, son of John Reese, was arrested in this city, charged with appropriating money not belonging to himself. He pleaded not guilty in the justice court this morning but was held for trial in March. Not being able to secure the $1,000 bail demanded, he was taken to Janesville to the county jail.

The story, on which the arrest of young Reese is based, has to do with the recent death of Mrs. Della Clark, who occupied one half of a double house, the Reeses living in the other. Mrs. Clark was in comfortable circumstances and was afraid of banks so she kept her money concealed in various parts of the house.

Since her death the heirs have made a most vigilant search, finding money in all sorts of places. They declare that $600 is missing and they suspect young Reese of being responsible for the disappearance of the money. It is further claimed that Reese has had an unusually large amount of money to spend since Mrs. Clark's death.

OBSERVER WRITES AGAIN ON EXISTING MUNICIPAL AFFAIRSHIS LETTER IS FULL OF PLAIN TRUTHS.

STILL REMAINS INCOGNITO

Discusses Facts That Should be Read
Attentively by Every Tax-Payer.

To the Editor: It is curious to observe the celerity with which great events tread upon each other in the lapse of a single week. With the coming of Lent a dull season is predicted, and the Observer's identity has been commented upon. But there is no censor in this town big enough to stop people from talking. Who knows but what the Observer like "Junius" or Bill Baxter may be all the more important for lack of true knowledge concerning his identity?

Suppose He Should Tell
But suppose the Observer should tell all he knows about city affairs? There are other departments besides the common council that would not doubt admit of greater publicity without injury to the cause.

There's the Board of Education for instance, and the amount of cash at its disposal. With due respect, in making the inquiry, how many of the Gazette readers knew until recently that body had over $50,000 with which to run the schools? Was it the League that stimulated this whole some desire for information? General appropriations for school purposes, $30,000; state and county, $15,000; tuition from outside pupils, approximately $1,000; police court penalties, approximately $1,500. Here is a total of $50,500. The Observer gives the unofficial figures but makes no comment.

A Denial
And the Observer denies that public opinion as expressed among those great German and Irish constituencies of the 4th and 5th wards, favors reckless expenditure in city affairs. They contribute heavily towards paying for streets and schools and public salaries, and interest on city bonds, and for a part of the same excuse an electric light, and for gas and water, which many of them do not use.

To say that these taxpayers are in favor of lavish city expenditures is preposterous. Their interests are identical with those of other men, and when the proper time comes they will be found upon the side of reasonable economy in city affairs. Taxation is inevitable but extravagance is not to be excused. Can a man afford to be taxed exorbitantly in exchange for one or two days' work in a year?

Prejudice Discovered
The Observer is also well aware of the efforts to create prejudice against the league in certain circles. A story was current a few days ago, that it showed a narrow spirit to choke off wine parties, dress ornaments, livery bills, etc., when the aldermen were giving their services to the city. History also relates that in the sixteenth century, it was the custom with convivial London sports to form stage parties and drive to the city workhouse to see the women whipped, but they paid their own bills.

League Strenuousness
The boosters make the sad mistake of calling a big tax levy a sign of prosperity, and complain of being disturbed by league talk. It seems to be admitted that the Municipal League has already had more beneficial effect upon the public business of Janesville than any similar organization since the city was incorporated. Even the most sluggish officials have been first to get in trim for the equinox.

It is said that the league contemplates another platform plank in answer to the attack of critics upon its sincerity, which will read as follows:
"Resolved, that this league hopes to grow better with age, it has been so good in its youth." Such is only another sample of league strenuousness. There is such a thing as making a mistake over a question of this magnitude, and it would be a curious one if some people should accept bad advice and get in the wrong band wagon. As matter of fact for instance nearly all the saloon keepers are rather shrewd business men and can study the future with any of us. The league's membership is very likely composed in part of men who don't drink liquors, but the main cause of its existence is another thing. There is no need of harboring prejudice upon so common a matter as what a man shall drink. The real issue is, who shall be mayor and aldermen?

A Borrowed Benevolence
While conceding the facts and figures given by the Observer to be correct in the main, the advocates of higher taxes insist that the picture is overdrawn. They look upon the city government as a benevolent aggregation whose chief delight should be to confer benefits upon resentful taxpayers at the latter's expense.
That Poor Widow
And the telegraph often relates the same goodness of heart in the solemn faced clique who relieve people in the cars of their loose change, then give back a dollar to the poor widow who crouches on the back seat with her five children. It is just such benevolence that makes this world pleasant and agreeable to live in.

What an Earthquake Might Show
But if Janesville should happen to have an earthquake, it is almost certain that more than one mummy would leap from its hidden cover to spread terror with its ghastly grin.
That New Jackson street bridge would leap from its hidden cover to ooze out upon the adjacent bayou mingling its horrid mass of swill and dead cats with the stagnant waters of that miasmatic and fever laden bog. Was there ever before a bridge or canseway composed of a city's garbage dump? This spot is supposed to conceal every disease to which the human system has ever been heir, not excepting the bubonic plague.

Some Pertinent Observations
To have comprehensive view of a city's business, or even to grasp the details of a single department, is confessedly a matter of much importance and requires men of peculiar talent. Honesty is essential but ability is also just now important. New questions are to come up for settlement, for it is conceded that Janesville is no longer in the old rut, and must henceforth travel in new and untried pathways. No one that lives will ever see the school board go back to $18,000 a year for expenses or the police department depend upon one man or the fire department restore hand engines. But the hand of progress seems not yet to have suggested an improvement upon the squandering of ward funds. To have a ward fund of $3,000 or $3,500 disappear so absolutely as not to leave either a vestige thereof or anything else to show for it, is still another of those grand official puzzles which the league presence has caused to be talked about.

Why not urge the adoption of a rule to give each alderman the privilege of testing where he placed the improvements?

Cannot Afford to Repudiate
However, the Observer, least of all is disposed to urge repudiation for even such a mere bagatelle as $90,000 worth of doubtful city bonds. If the boosters will only refrain from calling it a specimen of their foresight other folks may keep quiet too, issuing bonds is much like holding public office. Sometimes there is rather more responsibility than pleasure.

There is an air of mystery about office holding that makes it fascinating to a great number of men, who never think about the duties of the office beforehand. This is not surprising, and the observer states a well-known fact when he states that not one man in a hundred but finds the office a much different thing from what he supposed.

And yet it is too much to ask for perfection in any man. Even the best and purest of mayors and aldermen have their faults and the motive that caused the mistake is the real thing after all. Was he careless or did he err because he was a fool and could be led by the nose? Some men take to leadership and "bossism" naturally; others follow like so many brainless sheep.

Are these things worth considering in the selection of spring candidates or is it wiser to repeat after wards?

That Milton Avenue Case
Common report says that the people on Milton avenue being altogether like other folks, in similar cases, were easily flattered into the belief that their street tax for macadamizing would be way down cheap. But this happy delusion was dispelled when the official footings were issued. One victim had over $300 to pay, another $500, and so on. Nobody escaped, and no one is boasting of the job.

Owing to league agitation it is said that the delinquents will have to pay 6 per cent. interest on the bonds issued against their property instead of four per cent.

Here was a clean loss of 2 per cent. which the tax boosters charge against the league. It was such a privilege to be taxed $500, on street improvement, that the victim might have saved a half ton of coal.

But perhaps the observer is too observing of facts and figures and forgets to bestow credit where it is due. If those victims of double taxation on Milton avenue are made to pay a higher rate on account of the league, let no one begrudge the administration the single comfort it derives. It is the only item in their long list of extravagances which they have tried to justify or excuse.

Respectfully,
"THE OBSERVER."

STAR STUDY CLASS.

AN AFTERNOON OF PLEASURE

Class Presented Their President with a Souvenir Spoon—Enjoyable Program Is Given.

In the pretty parlors of Mrs. Martha A. Brownell's pleasant home at 164 Garfield avenue the members of the Eastern Star Study Class on Thursday held their second social gathering for the year, being entertained by the ladies of the second division. The gathering was purely social in its nature, there being no study program for the afternoon.

So delightful did the first social of the year prove that the hostesses for Thursday decided to entertain in a similar manner by giving a half after one luncheon. Twenty-three ladies were present and the occasion was a delightful one.

Pretty Decorations
One long table and two smaller ones were prettily spread, being strewn with ferns and red roses, the class flower. The brilliant blossoms with their dark green foliage were especially effective against the snowy linen and additional decorative touches were given by the place cards. These place cards were very artistic the fancy cover bearing the emblem of the Eastern Star order, painted in the five colors with the letters O. E. S. done in gilt monogram in the center. The words "Study Class" and the name of each member was also executed in gilt. On the luncheon pages was written the menu. The cards were tied with green and white ribbons, the class colors.

An Appetizing Spread
The luncheon was a delicious one in three courses, Mrs. May Smiley served at the head of the division in taking charge of the luncheon and she was assisted in its service by Mesdames J. B. Stevens, W. H. Tallman and W. H. Merritt.

Enjoyable Music
When the final course had been finished the ladies listened with pleasure to an entertaining program in which nearly every lady present took some part. The musical numbers were especially excellent, including a vocal solo, by Mrs. B. F. Carle, who sang "Little One A-Crying," a vocal solo, "You Stay at Home in Your Own House," rendered by Mrs. W. Z. Winbiger; a brilliantly executed piano solo, "Blaze Away," by Mrs. May Smiley and another well rendered piano selection, a duet "May Day" by Mrs. George Butts and Mrs. W. Z. Winbiger.

Other Pleasant Numbers
Mrs. W. H. Tallman and Mrs. J. B. Stevens presented an amusing farce, "A Slight Misunderstanding," the ladies impersonating the two characters in a manner which caused considerable fun. Another number on the program was a brief talk on the life and character of George Washington given by Mrs. E. O. Kimberley.

Miss Fanny Rumrill recited "Good-bye; God Bless You," and Mrs. Larry Wood read an amusing story. Mrs. D. Conger read "Mark Twain on Christian Science" and there were also humorous readings by Miss Sue Hutchinson and Mrs. Mary Harrington. There were several brief quotations given by other ladies.

Surprise for Presidents
One of the pleasant features of the afternoon was the surprise perpetrated by the class on their president, Mrs. E. O. Kimberley. In recognition of the faithfulness with which she has served the class and as a slight token of the esteem bestowed a handsome souvenir spoon on Mrs. Kimberley, the presentation being made in very happy manner by Mrs. C. V. Kerell. Mrs. Kimberley has made an excellent president for the class having never been absent from a meeting and always contributing something profitable to the study and social sessions.

Those Who Entertained
The hostesses at this delightful luncheon were Mesdames Martha Brownell, David Conger, W. H. Merritt, H. L. McNamara, Harriet Martin, Angie Sanborn, F. B. Strickler, Mary Wood, A. L. Yeomans, W. H. Tallman, J. B. Stevens, W. Z. Winbiger, May Smiley, Fannie Rumrill and H. M. Edwards. Mrs. Smiley was chairman of the division and Mrs. Strickler was chairman of the social committee which had charge of the program for the afternoon.

are beginning to prepare. They believe that a formidable invasion from that quarter is not far distant. The militia are on the alert.

About noon yesterday, Stuart's cavalry made an attack on part of Averill's division of cavalry, near Hartwood church. A skirmish ensued, resulting in the repulse of the rebels. Our loss in killed, wounded and prisoners was about forty. A rebel captain and lieutenant were among the killed; another captain was taken prisoner, also a number of privates. The rebels are now at Deep Run, forty miles above Hartwood church. Firing was heard in that direction after the first attack.

The West Virginia convention adjourned on Friday. The Wheeling Intelligencer says all its proceedings were very harmonious and that no feature of its deliberations was more striking than the marked change in favor of compensated emancipation.

JANESVILLE ACTOR
AT THE PLAYHOUSEEarl Doty, Known Here as Clarence
Burdick, Plays at the Myers
Grand.

Taking into consideration the numbers who were restrained by Lenten regulations from attending the performance of the "Man in the Iron Mask," at the Myers Grand last night it was an audience of generous proportions which greeted Earl Doty, otherwise known as Clarence Burdick, on his first appearance in several years before an audience of his own townspeople.

Mr. Doty's appearance had been awaited with a great measure of interest. Curiosity to see the success which had been attained by a former Janesville boy prompted a number to attend. In addition to these there were many of the personal friends of Clarence Burdick in the audience.

Additional local interest attached to the production by reason of the connection of John H. McElroy of this city with the company. Mr. McElroy's executive staff as business manager. He was not with the company last evening, however, being at present "ahead of the show."

If the frequent applause which greeted Mr. Doty may be taken as an index, the audience was not disappointed in his performance. At the close of the third act the house was so clamorous that he was obliged to come before the curtain and acknowledge the compliment that was paid him.

Mr. Doty proved himself an actor of abundant vitality and overflowing energy. His magnificent physique and thunderous voice worked almost to disadvantage in that the men in his support appeared lifeless and feeble beside him. When they had the stage to themselves the comparison was not so apparent, but the moment he appeared all others became insignificant.

To the Men in the Iron Mask Mr. Doty has given a very pleasing staging, the scenery being well painted and attractive. The actors with whom he has this year surrounded himself are in general satisfactory.

BASKET BALL WILL
SOON END SEASONHigh School Will Play Few Games
After Match with Carroll
Tonight.

Coach Norris announced that the high school basketball season is drawing near its conclusion. This evening's contest is the last which is now scheduled. It is likely that one or two later matches may be arranged, but at best there can be but few more. The track season is drawing near and the fact that few schools play later than the first of March stand in the way of a protracted series of games.

Carroll college will play at the high school gymnasium this evening. Between halves the girls' team and the girls' alumni gives will try conclusions. Tomorrow evening the collegians will play a second match in this city, their opponents being the association team.

STRONG EVIDENCE OF FAITH

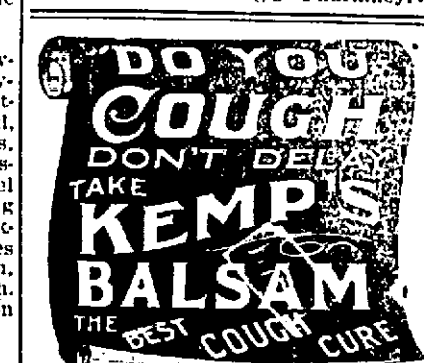

King's Pharmacy Guarantee That Hyomel Will Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh in Janesville.

When one of the most reputable concerns in Janesville guarantees that a medicine will effect a cure or they will return the money, it speaks volumes as to the merit of that remedy. It is in this way that King's Pharmacy are selling Hyomel, the treatment that has made so many remarkable cures of both acute and chronic cases of catarrh in Janesville and vicinity.

Hyomel is not a pill nor is it a liquid that has to be taken with a tablespoon or wineglass. Just breathe it in by the aid of an inhaler that comes in every outfit and benefit will be seen from the first treatment.

It destroys all germ life in the air passages and lungs and enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone. It cures catarrh of the head and throat, or of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Wherever mucous membrane contains catarrhal germs, where Hyomel will do its work of healing. When using this treatment, the air you breathe will be found like that on the mountains. High above the sea level, where grow balsamic trees and plants which make the air pure by giving off volatile antiseptic fragrance that is healing to the respiratory organs.

Remember that if Hyomel does not cure you, King's Pharmacy will refund your money. This is a good time to cure catarrh by this natural method and prevent catarrhal colds that are so common at this season. King's Pharmacy.

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. ANNUAL REPORT OF ASSOCIATION

J. C. KLINE PREPARES REPORT OF PAST YEAR.

PRESENTED AT MARINETTE

Great Activity Shown in Every Branch of the Y. M. C. A. Work—
Much Bowling.

Although the annual report of the Young Men's Christian association is not due for over a month, there will probably be a slight variance, when it is issued, from the figures which were presented at Marinette yesterday in a report prepared by Secretary Kline and read before the association men assembled at the annual convention of the state organization.

In speaking of the social activities of the association Secretary Kline called attention to the two men's clubs which meet in the Y. M. C. A. building—The Twilight club and the Social Union club. Both of them are limited to a membership of 160, and their banquets come on the first and second Tuesdays of each month respectively.

Special social events included the New Year's open house, on which day at least three hundred, and probably many more, shared the hospitality of the association; and the banquet of the "Get One," club at which seventy-five members of the association were present.

General Social Life
Besides these special occasions, attention was called to the daily activities of the parlors, social room and reading room.

In the educational department there are at present two classes. These are small in numbers, but strong in enthusiasm and in the work accomplished. The class in book-keeping, taught by E. G. Tracy, has nine students, and in the English class there are four pupils, all foreigners. The International examinations will be given these scholars.

Several classes are included in the athletic department. According to the figures set forth by the report rendered yesterday the business men's class has met seventy times, with an average attendance of five. Sixty-two meetings have been held by the Seniors, the average attendance being thirteen. In the intermediate department forty-three sessions have been held, with an average attendance of five. Twenty-three has been the average attendance at the sixty-five meetings of the Juniors.

Bowling has been not the least of the association's activities as attested by the statistics given. Since Jan. 1, 1902, tickets have been sold for 7,800 games. In addition to this the sustaining members, those who have paid $15 annually and upwards, secure the use of the alleys free. No account is kept of the number of the games bowled by them, but it is believed that the total is nearly equal to the paid games. The charge for these latter games is twenty-five cents for six, only members of the association being allowed the use of the alleys.

Physical Department Work
Among the games basketball was mentioned in the report as one of the most popular. A basketball league is in flourishing condition.

In the dormitories of the association building there are twenty-two rooms, accommodating at the present time thirty-one men. Often during the past year it has been necessary to turn away applicants for rooms.

The woman's Auxiliary came in for special mention. Their services in employing a woman to care for the dormitories, and their general oversight of that department has been invaluable. They have also had charge of the Social Union club banquets. During the past year they have placed a $350 piano in the building, supplying a long felt need.

Religious Activities
Forty-seven men's meetings have been held on Sunday afternoons during the year. The average attendance at these meetings has been sixty-four, which number is greatly cut down by the fact that it includes the heated summer months when there is a decided falling off. Thirty sessions have been held of the Sunday afternoon Bible class, the average attendance being twelve.

On the first Sunday of each month the Murphy League has conducted meetings in the association building. Constant progress in numbers and in the success of the meetings has been shown.

Twenty-two Saturday morning meetings have been held for the boys of the Junior department. The average attendance has been nineteen.

Entertainment Course
A six number lecture and entertainment course has been one of the features of the past year. The average attendance has been four hundred and fifty or over.

At the present time the association has a membership of 402. Of this number 333 are seniors, 16 intermediates and 53 juniors. Of the seniors 117 are active and 216 associate.

In connection with the report the facts were set forth that the population of Janesville is 14,000, and that the association owns a building costing $33,000. In view of all these facts, the directors of the association feel that they can say with truth that the past year has been a year of progress and success in many lines.

A Layman's Lenten Sermon.

Third day of Lent. St. Matthew XII. 1 to 9 verse. At that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were hungry, and began to pluck the ears of corn and eat.

2. But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, behold thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath day.

3. But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, and they that were with him?

4. How he entered the House of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat neither for them that were with him but only for the priests?

5. Or have ye not read in the law how that on sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath and are blameless?

6. But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple.

7. But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8. For the son of man is Lord even of the Sabbath day.

We find that in these verses the Lord Christ showed to the Pharisees that even despite their laws which with them were paramount there was such a thing as one being above them. His soft answer to their petty and petulant questions showed that he was but paving the way for the final time when they, and all the world, should bow in recognition to him as Jesus Christ the son of God. Throughout his whole life and teachings among the tribes of Judea we find him following that divine teaching of turning wrath with a soft answer. Can we not learn a lesson from this? Can we not make this Lenten season a time for the beginning of the custom of answering querulous questions with soft words?

Lent should not mean so much a season of self-denial as it should a season of thought and repentance. A time in which one can rest from the busy whirl to think upon life spiritual instead of life material. Lent commemorates Christ's suffering and fasting in the wilderness and during the thirty seven days remaining let us try to take the Master's example of answering querulous doubters by a soft answer. This done and Lent will have brought to you the blessing unmeasurably bestowed.

...Bishop Nicholson's Plea...

"If the devil should send a popular actress to Milwaukee during Lent, many of you people would attend the theater; you have not the moral courage to stay away!" exclaimed Bishop Nicholson in his sermon in All Saints' cathedral Sunday morning.

The bishop was making a special plea for the observance of Lent, which begins Wednesday. He took his text from Psalms lxxvii:10, "They kept not the covenant of God and refused to walk in His law."

This psalm tells the story of the manner in which the Jews were constantly breaking the law, referring more particularly to the tribe of Ephraim, which, notwithstanding it had been given the best place in the allotment of the promised land, were constantly in time of war, turned their backs on the enemy, and debauched themselves in time of peace. Taking this as his cue, Bishop Nicholson spoke of the spectacle presented by the persons holding high places in the church when they fell into decadence.

"Poor is the preaching," said the bishop, "if the preacher preach of a people who have passed by and fails to apply the lessons to be drawn therefrom to himself and his people." He lamented that the people of the parish had not taken advantage to a greater extent of the opportunities offered by the mission recently held in the cathedral, but declared there was opportunity for them to make amends for their shortcomings by a strict observance of Lent.

Negro Ask No Special Favors

Born of slave parents in Mexico, Mo.; educated in the common schools of Missouri and Illinois; school teacher in the south for several years among his own people; with a scientific education of Knox college, Gatesburg, and a law course at Bloomington, Ill.; editor of a weekly paper published in the interests of his race; judges advocate in the United States army in Cuba, is the record made by the Rev. Mr. Jameson, pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church of Madison, the first colored man to officiate as chaplain of the legislature of Wisconsin.

"The negro," said Mr. Jameson, "is asking for no special favors or class legislation. All he asks is a fair opportunity to earn an honest living, together with a just consideration of his rights as a human being. He could ask no more and he should be given no less.

"All this clamoring for social recognition upon the part of the negro is chimerical. The negro does not seek it any more than does the white man. No one knows this better than those who charge it against him. Social ethics regulate themselves and every intelligent man or woman chooses his own associates. This is a privilege that no statutory provision can either help or hinder."

...Theatrical Notes...

William A. Brady, who has played as many parts in his time, in the

ROBT. LORRAINE,

Shakespearian sense, as have most men, is not rated with Wilton Lackaye and Burr McIntosh as a wit, but often he gives vent to remarks that are really laughable. Some days ago after returning from a visit to two or three of the cities in which Grace George is to appear, he began singing the praises of two young actresses and relating tales of her popularity. "They all know her!" he said gleefully. "They know about her New York success and about the kind of work she does in 'Pretty Peggy.' They know what type of personal beauty is hers and how long she has been on the stage." He looked around to see what impression he had made. "Upon my soul," he added, by the way of giving emphasis to his statement, "they know me only as Grace George's manager." Which, considering that Mr. Brady was a celebrity before Miss George left school, is rather a humorous conceit.

The best physicians told me I could not live; that I would die of paralysis, as my father and grandfather had. I remained a helpless invalid for three years, when I heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and began using it. That winter I felt better than I had before in many years, and I have not been troubled with those dreadful headaches since I first used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. "For many years I suffered from nervous prostration, and could not direct my household affairs, nor have any care. My stomach was very weak, headaches very severe, and I was so nervous that there was not a night in years that I slept over one hour at a time. We spent hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicine. I was taken to Chicago and treated by specialists, but received no benefit at all. Finally I heard of Dr. Miles' Nervine and began its use. I was surprised that it helped me so quickly, and great was my joy to find, after using seven bottles, that I had fully recovered my health."—Mrs. W. A. Thompson, Duluth, Minn.

THE SENATE AND PRIMARY ELECTION

The following editorial appeared in the Madison State Journal yesterday. It is so conservative in tone, and so full of common sense suggestions, that it is worthy of careful reading:

The assembly passed the primary election bill in its entirety, and it is now the duty of the senate to consider the measure as men of caution, wisdom, and patriotism, recognizing no authority save the best interests of the state.

We all know more about primary elections than we did two years ago. The principle of the direct vote is sound. Great benefits to good citizenship and the public service will result from its use in the making of nominations. Nevertheless, it is the part of statecraft to proceed with caution in the introduction of such an innovation. No business man who proposed so drastic a shift of methods in his business would install it from roof to cellar, certainly in the absence of intelligent precedent; and commonwealths differ so in men, sentiment and traditions that what one state says of primary elections cannot be more than suggestive. Minnesota was wise enough to feel her way—to introduce the system gradually. It cannot be wise, especially with factional feeling so rife, with many of the leading citizens looking on the change with distrust and suspicion,—to provide that at one stroke all conventions and caucuses shall be abolished—all officers, United States senators, governor, state officers, congressmen, state senators, assemblymen, every county officer and city official in all of the 70 counties—shall be nominated by turning the electorate into the voting booth to make its choices!

Suppose you were called on to name your choice for an insurance commissioner, for railroad commissioner—how intelligently could you name a man with some show of nomination? You would name an insurance man in your own city and (for railroad commissioner) some good fellow of your acquaintance who once had worked for a railroad. But what of it? What chance would your choices stand against two men who have a political "machine" back of them to pick up a few votes in every district in the state? Under the primary election system there might be one hundred choices for insurance commissioner and the man who received one more vote than the other candidates, received (individually, mind you, not collectively) would be the party's nominee on the ticket.

The more we study the system the stronger our conviction that the direct vote (a great revival of the successful town meeting idea of early days) is designed only to those areas in which the citizens know each other, or at least in which will be offered for office men of repute and standing familiar to the voters of that area involved. Thus, we believe the republicans or democrats of Wisconsin should vote intelligently by primary elections for a gubernatorial nominee; only men of large repute and in the enjoyment of a state-wide confidence would be advanced to the executive chair. We believe that congressman can be so chosen, though it would be wisdom to well install this system, test it, strengthen its weak parts, before applying it to so large areas—(in some cases six or seven counties); but to saddle the blanket system on the full state now, with no experience to guide us, would be to plunge Wisconsin into the wildest confusion. It is not sane, not sensible;—such rash action would reflect discreditably on our law-making body.

The senate is a superior body. It would be easy to name eleven men in it who are equal to the congressional delegation and half a dozen of its members have been indicated as of United States senatorial dimensions. These men owe it to the state to do the wise thing with the assembly bill. Ask a dozen business men in any city to indicate whether to pass such a bill in full, or adopt some of its clauses and hold the rest to reserve for new light and experience; and almost every man will advise tentative and experimental action. The state at present is in a convulsed period. It will not always be so. These law-makers have the welfare of all the people to consider and a jealous regard for their good name as conservative, disinterested legislators.

The State Journal was early in this crusade for the direct vote. We have done much agitation for the come the full assembly bill as a law, the state to learn its lesson by bitter experience. But this is unnecessary. Let the senate amend to apply primary elections to a part of the offices. It has been proposed to restrict the application to county and city nominations and as for the balance to hold a referendum on that matter in the fall election of 1904.

We refuse to believe Gov. La Follette would veto a measure of this sort. It would subject him to the charge of sacrificing the public welfare to secure his own political advancement. With the conclusion of this term Gov. La Follette will have had four years of executive office and two legislatures given him by the same electorate which handsomely supported him. The people will rightly demand some fruits of stewardship. They cannot be expected to go on indefinitely giving him opportunity—he must deal with men as they are and get results.

Let the senators acquit themselves with wisdom without fear. It cannot be statecraft to do what good sense and business principles deny. No compulsion, no ignorant, popular outcry should move the senate of the state of Wisconsin. The honor of a seat in that body of but six men, the responsibility, is too great.

A PROFESSOR'S VIEWS

Boston, Feb. 25.—Students of Boston university, are discussing a talk which Prof. Marshall L. Perrin of the university gave his class on the subject of indiscriminately sending boys and girls to college. According to the noted educator's views a great mistake is made by those parents who, knowing their children lack brains, still believe they can have them trained to lives of usefulness by plying them off to a university. Dr. Perrin declares that careful judgment should be used in choosing between practical instruction and higher education. Among other things he said that many a boy would be better to stick to the blacksmith shop and many a girl to the millinery trade. Too many feel that going to college will redeem their lives. It sometimes ruins them. Some people are no good in college, but all right in other lines. It is much better to be a successful laborer than a tenth-rate minister, a fifteenth rate lawyer or a petty "school-marm."

This plain talk from the noted college man, very naturally created a commotion, not only among the students but among the parents as well.

It is a delicate matter to question the brain equipment of any child to successfully struggle with a collegiate course. Parents are slow to admit that their offspring are not as well equipped mentally, as any other children, but the professor, after spending years in close contact with young people, is honest enough to admit a great truth that is apparent to all observing teachers.

This lack of mental ability is not the fault of the child and it is seldom a misfortune. When the decree went forth many centuries ago, "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread," it applied to the human race for all time to come, and the race has been busily engaged in toll and sweat ever since.

When the age of intelligence is fully reached, and wisdom rather than pride governs, parents as well as teachers will discover that it is a waste of time and energy to crowd a certain class of pupils to graduation.

A diploma does not mean success. While it is desirable under right conditions, it is a handicap where conditions are not right, and the time spent to secure it is wasted. Education for the masses means the ability to earn an honest livelihood, and should be intensely practical. Prof. Perrin is right and his advice is worthy of thoughtful consideration.

If Senator Whitehead is an obstructionist, as the governor's Milwaukee organ has frequently declared, it is fortunate for the state that he is a member of the legislature. It is the easiest thing in the world to pass laws, but there is always a hereafter. Better to go slow and be right, than to act from impulse and repent at leisure.

Between the primary law, railroad legislation, and city government, Janesville taxpayers are not at a loss for fertile topics for discussion. The legislature will look after state affairs, and it begins to look as though the Bower City voters would take an active interest in local affairs.

Sixty thousand dollars for a lighting plant may seem like an insignificant sum to the first ward alderman, but the people will think twice before they endorse the movement, and how little the average taxpayer then vote to wait until they recover from the city hall venture.

Senator Quarles is the recipient of more democratic bouquets than the occasion demands. The badly demoralized party would like to make him a free trader, but their efforts will be futile.

The Milwaukee Journal is a generous dispenser of free advice. The paper is destitute of a party, and is in position to swing a free lance at all comers. It possesses wisdom beyond compare and occasionally guesses right.

Mr. Vandercook's letters from the south are an interesting feature. The Milwaukee Sentinel is exhausting every effort to supply a first class news paper, and is succeeding.

use a government frank. He proposes to keep his memory green after he retires to private life.

The political complexion of the next council, is not so important as the morals and business qualifications.

The people are ready to support men whose presence will insure a wholesome and economical city administration.

There is a limit to endurance in city affairs, and public sentiment has reached the limit.

The discoveries made by "Observer" are a little startling and tend to show payer knows about his own business.

ACTED STRANGELY AND IS CARED FOR Police Take Charge of John Johnson, Whose Actions Indicate That He Is Demented.

Chief Hogan and Deputy Sheriff Cochran picked up a man named John Johnson, giving his home as Chicago on Wall street this morning in an apparently demented condition.

Johnson was walking about the street in his shirt sleeves and acting so queerly that the people living along the street became frightened at his actions. He was covered with mud and when taken to the lock-up said "he had been walking all night or dreamed he had." There is very little doubt but what Johnson had been walking all night from the condition he was in. People living along the Hanover road reported seeing him wandering around yesterday evening.

This morning Henry Trip came to town and reported that Johnson was down near the stone quarry below Monterey without a hat or coat. Chief Hogan and Officer Cochran were about to get a horse and buggy and go after him, when the report came in. When taken to the lock-up and searched, Chief Hogan found about eighty dollars in money, a silver watch and other valuables on Johnson. He said that he bought an overcoat, a suit of clothes and a hat in this city yesterday but had lost them and did not know where they were. He also claimed to have lost a leather pocket-book with about six dollars in it. Johnson was here for about a month last summer working for the railroad company as a laborer and boarded at Watson's restaurant. He did not seem able to care for himself so was locked up until the authorities can make some disposition of him.

LODGE ENJOYED SOCIAL SESSION

Pleasant Meeting of the Tribe of Ben Hur—Amusing Contest Is Held

In connection with the regular meeting of Ben Hur Court No. 1, Tribe of Ben Hur, held at East Side Odd Fellows' hall, Thursday evening, there was an enjoyable social session. During the meeting two new members were received into the lodge, which is in a prosperous condition.

The social meeting after the adjournment of the business session was a surprise to the lodge members, the plans being known only to the committee which had them in charge. One of the unique and enjoyable features was an artistic contest, each person receiving a red card on which was written the name of an animal, bird or insect. A stick of white chewing gum was also given each person and with this material the animal named was to be represented.

An Artistic Contest
 The contest caused a great deal of amusement. Mrs. George J. Hans received the first lady's prize, a linen centerpiece and the first gentleman's prize, a fancy thermometer, was awarded to Harry P. Robinson. The consolation prizes, a fuzzy little chicken and a mouse trap were given to Mrs. F. A. Rader and H. D. Murdock.

Some Good Music
 There was no formal musical program, but Mrs. H. D. Murdock furnished some excellent piano music which was greatly enjoyed. She played "A Footlight Favorite," a ballad by W. F. Sudds, "Sweet Souvenir," a waltz by George Dudley Martin and "The Young Recruit" by F. G. Rathbun.

"Friendship, Love and Song," a beautiful quartet selection by Will L. Thompson, was admirably given by Mrs. W. Z. Winkler, Mrs. Charles Kemmerer, E. O. Smith and Harry P. Robinson, with Mrs. H. D. Murdock at the piano. The company was delighted with the selection and demanded an encore insistently but the quartet declined to respond.

Refreshments and Cards
 Light refreshments were served and although the hour was late when the pop corn and apples were passed, card tables were brought out, the company broke up into little groups and enjoyed some time at various card games.

 Subscribers to the fund for the expenses of the work of the Municipal League are requested to pay in their subscriptions. Payment may be made at any of the city banks, and at the People's Drug store.

ANOTHER ROAD SEEKS FRANCHISE

JANESVILLE TRACTION COMPANY
WANTS TO BUILD INTERURBAN.

IT IS AN OPPOSITION MOVE

Asking for the Same Rights as the Southern Wisconsin Railway Company.

The Janesville Traction Co., is the latest organization that will apply for a franchise to construct an electric railroad in the city of Janesville. The new organization is really the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville railroad company, who wish to extend their line from this city to Madison.

Really The Same
While the Janesville Traction Co. is really the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville railroad company, a new organization had to be formed to build this extension in order to keep the business of the two concerns separate until the new road is completed when it will all be merged into the present system.

New Company
H. H. Clough will be the president of the new company and the capital stock has been placed at $50,000. The articles of incorporation will be filed today with the Secretary of State by T. S. Nolan and Saturday morning a meeting will be held for the election of officers and to authorize the publication of the application for a franchise which will be presented to the council two weeks from Monday evening next.

To Build A Road
The company is organized for the purpose of building, maintaining and operating an electric railroad in Wisconsin and for the purpose of furnishing light, power and heat and transaction of other business that may arise in connection with the road.

Same As Other
The application for a franchise follows the wording of the franchise already granted to the Rockford, Beloit and Janesville road, and the city will be asked to give the new company the same rights as were granted the R. B. & J. road, and they agree to construct the road under the same conditions that the other road was built.

Route Not Definite
Just what cities will be taken in between Janesville and Madison has not yet been decided although several routes are under consideration. The Janesville Traction Co. is asking for practically the same privileges as are asked for by the Southern Wisconsin Railroad company whose application and the franchise they will ask for has already been published.

Good Service
The Rockford, Beloit and Janesville road has given good service so far and no doubt the service between Janesville and Madison will be equally good. They have excellent power in their station at Beloit to operate the entire system by building a few substations along the line.

The Other Road
The Southern Wisconsin railroad company are equally positive in their assertions that they will build a line if they secure the franchise and will start this year.

ENTERTAINED BY LAUREL LODGE

DELEGATION FROM DARLINGTON VISITED HERE.

GIVEN A CORDIAL RECEPTION

Supper Was Served by the Sewing Circle, and a Social Followed the Meeting.

Janesville Lodge, No. 171, Daughters of Rebekah, had the pleasure of entertaining a delegation from Darlington lodge at the regular meeting held in West Side Odd Fellows hall, Thursday evening. The visiting delegation came to Janesville for the express purpose of seeing the work of the order put on the floor and incidentally they were entertained in very asplendable manner.

List of Visitors
Nine members of the Pearl City Rebekah Lodge, No. 160, made up the visiting delegation, the party including Mrs. Mary McCauley, vice grand; Mrs. Estella Wood, secretary; Mesdames Lillie Roy, Jennie Oates, Emma Huggin and Mary Driver; Miss Alice Bower and Messrs. Joseph Oates and Robert Wood.

The visitors arrived in the city at 4:45 o'clock and were met at the depot by a reception committee from the Janesville lodge, including Mrs. C. MacDonald, the noble grand; Mrs. Thurza Ryckman, vice grand; Mrs. G. M. Dopp, secretary and Mrs. Ella Stout.

Supper Served
The party was escorted to West Side Odd Fellows' hall and at 5:30 o'clock the guests were invited into the lodge dining hall where prettily laid tables bore a tempting burden of good things to eat. The supper, which was served by the Rebekah Sewing circle was an elegant one and the fact that it was heartily enjoyed was apparent.

Social and Lodge Session

A social hour, followed the supper and at 7:30 o'clock Mrs. MacDonald called the lodge to order in regular session. The floor work was exemplified by the degree team of the local lodge and the visitors complimented the Janesville ladies highly, expressing their great pleasure in having witnessed the work put on the floor in such excellent manner.

Program Given
The committee on the good of the order had arranged a brief program which added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Miss Alma Ashbaugh gave a recitation and Mrs. E. W. Olin sang "Under the Southern Skies," acceptably. A piano solo was played by Miss Olive Tramballe.

Refreshments and Social
The pleasant evening came to a close with the serving of light refreshments and an informal social. The visitors were entertained over night in the homes of members of the local lodge and returned to Darlington today.

DELEGATION WANTS ROAD AT MILTON

Both Milton and Milton Junction
Business Men Want Southern Wisconsin Interurban.

A delegation of twenty of the prominent citizens of Milton and Milton Junction arrived in the city at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon to meet the officials of the Southern Wisconsin Railroad company, to present petitions and talk of the advantages to be derived both by their towns and the railroad company if the promoters should choose to run the road to Madison by the way of Milton and Milton Junction. Hon. J. L. Carr, in behalf of Milton addressed the meeting and presented a petition signed by every business house in Milton and by the most of the citizens and extended a hearty welcome to the promoters of the road in behalf of the town he represented. He was followed by Wesley Winch of Milton Junction, who also presented a lengthy petition signed by about all the business houses of his town and a large number of citizens. He like Mr. Carr felt that the road would be a good thing for their city and urged the promoters to select a route taking in the towns.

C. S. Jackson, president of the company made a short address, giving the object of the road and their desire to accommodate as many towns as possible to help the earning capacity of the road. They had not selected a route as yet, and it would depend on the amount of business they thought they could do. He was favorably inclined toward Milton and Milton Junction. President Dalad of Milton college was the next speaker and had a petition signed by himself and all the faculty. He stated that from the college alone he was satisfied that the road would derive a good income as the scholars were continually going between the two towns and a great many of them lived nearby at towns adjacent to the line and would use it going to and from home. Michael Hayes explained to the representatives of the two towns, that they had to consider the extra cost of running the road by Milton and Milton Junction over going direct to Edgerton it would cost at least $50,000 more and that they would have to figure as to the increase in the earning capacity of the road to cover this extra outlay.

Mr. Hayes was followed by other speakers, who showed the advantage of running through their towns and whereby the road would be the gain.

No definite answer was given the gentlemen, but their proposition will be given serious consideration. Milton—Hon. P. M. Green, J. L. Carr, Pres. W. C. Daland, W. H. Ingham, T. I. Place, E. D. Bliss, James Bullis, J. J. Bennett, George R. Boss, B. H. Wells, W. D. Thomas.

Engineer George M. Dopp, who has been in Chicago for the past two weeks taking medical treatment, returned home Thursday to attend the meeting at which Janesville lodge, No. 171, Daughters of Rebekah entertained the Darlington delegation. At the time when he was injured in the C. & N. W. wreck at Lytle, it was not thought that his injuries were serious enough to lay him up for any considerable length of time. At the end of three months, however, the shoulder is still very stiff, both the muscles and the nerves being seriously affected.

TO ATTEND PLAY AT MADISON TONIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kimball Will See
Their Daughter in "My Friend
From India."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Kimball have gone to Madison to attend the presentation of "My Friend From India" given as their annual play by the Haresfoot Dramatic club of the University of Wisconsin. Their daughter Miss Eureka Kimball, appears in the role of Beatrice Underholt and Mrs. Kimball will remain in Madison over Sunday with her daughter.

Within the past week, the presentation of the play has seemed rather doubtful. The Haresfoot club had already paid a royalty to one party when Smith and Rice, New York play-owners, threatened to stop the play unless certain royalties were paid.

Influence was brought to bear and Thursday word was received from Smith and Rice that they would not interfere with the production. This removed the last obstruction and the finishing touches were put on the various parts at a dress rehearsal held this afternoon.

The play will be presented at the Fuller opera house, the cast being composed entirely of University students. Miss Kimball's picture, together with those of the other members of the cast, appeared in last Sunday's Milwaukee Sentinel in connection with a very complimentary article about the several young people and the Haresfoot club.

SPREAD SERVED BY BASKET BALL TEAM

Alumni Girls Have a Jolly Luncheon in Honor of the Gentlemen Coaches.

At the close of their final practice before their second game with the High school team, the Alumni Girls' basket ball team served a spread in honor of Coach Roy C. Palmer, who has had charge of the team, and of Coach William Norris, of the High school team, to whom the alumni girls have been indebted for many courtesies.

This final practice before tonight's game was held at the High school gymnasium, Thursday evening. The alumni team played three hard halves against the second team, after which the girls all enjoyed the rather unique experience of taking a shower bath.

Then the young ladies each brought out their contributions to the spread which proved to be a delicious luncheon. The menu was composed entirely of luxuries which one would scarcely expect to see on a regulation training table on the evening before a contest. This fact did not seem to detract from the enjoyment of coach or player, however, and the young people had a very jolly time in an informal way.

C. C. GRAY ONE OF THE TRUSTEES

Janesville Bottler Chosen to Office in Wisconsin State Bottlers' Association Just Organized.

Over sixty manufacturers of beer, soda and mineral waters, and all varieties of soft drinks, met at the Republican House at Milwaukee yesterday to organize an association. Chief among their objects is the establishment of a central bottle clearing house where all bottles may be sent, then distributed to the different members of the association to whom they belong. There are about two hundred bottlers in this state whose membership is desired. Charles Gray of this city was elected one of the trustees of the body.
